From the Vomero, Naples, Italy. Received through Dr. C. Sprenger, March 5, 1902.

"A native of Mexico." (Sprenger.)

8462. VITIS VINIFERA. Grape.

From Kurrachee, India. Received through Messrs. Lathrop and Fairchild (No. 827, February 2, 1902), March 10, 1902.

Sufetha. "An indigenous white grape, grown successfully at Kurrachee. It is one of the three best in cultivation here, where there is only 7 inches of rainfall and the temperature in summer goes to 110° F. from March to the end of June, and the soil is noticeably alkaline. Berry large and round; bunches 4½ pounds in weight; long, crowded, heavy cropper; flavor good; skin thick and leathery. It is said to be a good keeper and shipper, being shipped from Kurrachee to Bombay and Lahore. These cuttings are from the Kurrachee Public Gardens." (Fairchild.)

8463. VITIS VINIFERA. Grape.

From Kurrachee, India. Received through Messrs. Lathrop and Fairchild (No. 829, February 2, 1902), March 10, 1902.

Goolabie. "An indigenous variety of grape which thrives better than such forms as the Black Hamburg, and, according to our informant, Mr. Lester, superintendent of the public gardens of Kurrachee, it is considered superior in flavor to the Black Hamburg. This is the favorite grape for Kurrachee conditions, which resemble those of Tulare (California) and Arizona, being a desert where only 7 inches of rain falls and where, for the summer months, a temperature of 110° is of daily occurrence. The soil is decidedly alkaline, in fact too much so for ordinary European grapes. The variety is said to be a purple, small-berried kind, a very heavy cropper, fruit-
