

lage names, however, are not listed therein, and in all such cases the location of the village is given with reference to the nearest town mentioned in that work.

The manuscript of this inventory was prepared by Miss May Riley, the botanical determinations of seeds introduced were made and the notes on geographic distribution compiled by Mr. H. C. Skeels, while the descriptive and botanical notes were arranged by the late Mr. S. C. Stuntz.

DAVID FAIRCHILD,
Agricultural Explorer in Charge.

OFFICE OF FOREIGN SEED AND PLANT INTRODUCTION,
Washington, D. C., May 31, 1918.