

FIG. 1.—Map of Central America and South America, showing Wilson Popenoe's exploration routes from 1919 to 1921. A wealth of new plant material resulted from this trip, including the giant Colombian berry from near Bogota; the Andes berry, many varieties of which are found from Guatemala to Chile; the pejobaye, a staple food of Costa Rica; a number of choice avocados from the Chota Valley, north of Ibarra, Ecuador; several relatives of the papaya; and a host of other plants recorded in this and the four preceding inventories.
