

distinct fruit, different in color and taste, and matures several weeks later in the season. Many people think it is equal to, and some think it far superior to, the litchi. It is cultivated in the same way as the latter, so far as I have observed."

10674. HORDEUM TETRASTICHUM.Four-row barley.

From Chicago, Ill. Received thru Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology, May 3, 1904.

"Minnesota barley which, according to Dr. Robert Wahl's analysis, contains the unusual percentage of 15 to 16 per cent of protein. Doctor Wahl believes that this variety should be experimented with in connection with the testing of low-protein, two-rowed barleys. It is also of interest in connection with the experiments of Mr. H. M. Cottrell, Odebolt, Iowa, on high nitrogen feeding barleys." (Fairchild.)
