

20230 to 20288—Continued.

20268. CRATAEGUS PINNATIFIDA.

Hawthorn.

From Kwang-ning. "(No. 618.) A large-fruited hawthorn called Tsuan dsao." (Meyer.)

20269 to 20275. PYRUS SINENSIS.

Pear.

From Kwang-ning. (Nos. 619 to 625.)

20269.

Ne o tau li. (No. 619.)

20273.

Ghua kai li. (No. 623.)

20270.

Ta yang li. (No. 620.)

20274.

Lin yuen li. (No. 624.)

20271.

Huang hsiang sui li.
(No. 621.)

20275.

Nai tsu hsiang li. (No. 625.)

20272.

Tang li. (No. 622.)

20276 to 20280. MALUS sp.

Apple.

From Kwang-ning. (Nos. 626 to 630.)

20277.

Pin tsu. (No. 627.)

20279.

Hua hong. A pretty flowering tree or shrub, a little different from the preceding. (No. 629.)

20278.

Hua hong chintze. A pretty flowering tree or shrub. (No. 628.)

20280.

Ping kua. (No. 630.)

20281. PRUNUS sp.

Plum.

From Kwang-ning. (No. 631.)

20282. AMYGDALUS PERSICA LAEVIS.

Nectarine.

From Kwang-ning. (No. 634.)

Li tsu.

20283 to 20286. AMYGDALUS PERSICA.

Peach.

From Kwang-ning. (Nos. 640 to 643.)

Ta hsing mei.

20283.

Ta chich tau. (No. 640.)

20285.

Hung tau. (No. 642.)

20284.

Pai tau. (No. 641.)

20286.

Mao tau. (No. 643.)

20287 and 20288. PRUNUS sp.

Cherry.

From Kwang-ning. (Nos. 644 and 645.)

20287.

Ta ying tao. (No. 644.)

20288.

Mou ying tao. (No. 645.)

20289 to 20424.

From Siberia. Received through Mr. Frank N. Meyer, agricultural explorer, February 28, 1907.

A collection of seeds, as follows:

20289. JUGLANS MANDSHURICA.

Manchuria walnut.

From between Vladivostok and Spask. "(No. 515a, Oct. 19, 1906.) Collected from different trees in eastern Siberia. These are worthless from a utilitarian point of view, but the trees are quite ornamental and reach large sizes." (Meyer.)