

'Meeting' of the Royal Horticultural Society of London, March 26, 1901, and the English horticultural papers, among others the 'Gardeners' Chronicle,' in its number of May 25, have drawn the attention of amateurs to them.

"Dr. Masters believes that in view of the general conditions in which these plants grow in the Kongo, that is to say, under the constant shade of the equatorial forest, in a light soil composed of sand and decayed vegetable matter, it will be easy to cultivate them in the temperate lands, and that they promise to have a great horticultural future."
